ENGINE TURNED OVER

Two Accidents on the Memphis Division Last Night.

St. Louis Train Delayed for Some Time—Other Railroad
Notes.

Engine No. 349, of the Fulton socommodation No. 181, in charge of Engineer Kelley, of the city, was struck last evening by a train on the main line at Fulton and turned over.
Fortunately no one was hurt. Details of the accident are not known, but the accommodation left the city late yesterday afternoon. Master Mechanic Curley sent a machinist down to disconnect the engine.

Two boarding cars were turned over at Paducah junction, below Fulton, last evening, and the wrecking train from the city was sent down last night to replace them. The particulars of the accident were not reported here.

Superintendent W. J. Harahan and Roadmaster H. U. Wallace left this morning for Louisville, after spending two days here.

The brick work on the new round house began this morning, the stalls having been completed, and the structure will soon be ready for occupancy.

The St. Louis train, due at 7:30 this morning, was delayed over six hours by a wreck at Wildersburg, about twenty miles out of St. Louis. An engine to a freight train was derailed, which occasioned the delay.

Trainmaster J. J. Flynn and General Yardmaster W. L. Suran went to Memphis this morning to attend court.

The pay train was due this morning at 11 o'clock but did not arrive, owing to the wreck out of St. Louis. It was this afternoon reported 24 hours late, which will put it in tomorrow morning about noon.

The St. Louis train due at 7:30 this morning was reported six hours late, but came in only half an hour late, as it came around by the L. and N. and went around the wreck.

Traveling Freight Agent R. C. Watkins was in the city today en route to Jackson, Tenn.

HAD TWO STOMACHS.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Oct. 19.—A peculiar case of surgery, in which a former baseball player figures, has been made public here. The patient, Scott Stratton, of Taylorville, Ky., ex-pitcher of the Louisville club. His peculiarity is that he had two stomachs, and yet was starving. Stratton's trouble had increased to such an extent that food had to be forced into his stomach. An X-ray examination a few days ago revealed the cause, and the extra organ was removed. The patient will recover.

PROCLAMATION OF Viceroy Lang

Burdened with a sense of the honor done our great city by the proposed visit of our gracious sovereign, Esaherup I, and knowing well the loyalty of our people, in pursuance of the proclamation of his royal majesty, I direct that all of the commands contained in said proclamation be patriotically carried out. I hereby direct the street commissioner to see that the streets are in gala attire and that the streets along the route to be followed by our royal master be decorated with flags, bunting and flowers. The prefect of police is instructed to allow all licenses referred to in the proclamation of his majesty.

I also direct that the firemen and police join in the parade and that the merchants and manufacturers of our city make such suitable display of their wares and products on floats and otherwise that his majesty may see that his servants have not been idle during his long and enforced absence. The captain of the guard is directed to assemble his men at the armory punctually at 3 p. m., October 26, and march thence to the landing and receive their royal majesties and escort them to the palace.

We call on all our royal citizens of Paducah to let nothing interfere with a proper observance of the two days, OCTOBER 26 and 27, that our king, at his home-coming, may see and appreciate the joy of his ever faithful subjects.

Witness my hand and seal this, 19th day of October, A. M., 5903.

J. M. LANG, Viceroy.

ANOTHER FLUKE

The Yacht Race Today Was a Failure Owing to the Lack of Wind.

COLUMBIA LED THE START

Against What Promised No Results Went Out on the Water.

WERE STILL AT LAST ACCOUNTS

HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 19.—The weather conditions this morning could hardly have been more perfect for an other race between the yachts Shamrock and Columbia. A twelve knot breeze blew from the northwest and the haze soon disappeared. The skies were bright and early and eager for the race the crews of both yachts were up with the sun. The Shamrock, being resting a little lower in the water, due to a ton and a half ballast placed in her yesterday, did not show any mark of her unfortunate accident of Tuesday. The challenger's ballast increased her water line more than a foot, and the Shamrock must now allow the Columbia sixteen seconds. In the previous races the Columbia had to allow the Shamrock six and three-tenths seconds. The fleet of excursion boats and steam yachts that left the city this morning for the scene of the race was larger than it has been for some days. The general belief that today's race would be the last of the series is responsible for the increased interest in the contest. The preparatory signal was fired at 10:45 and the boats will soon be off.

The Columbia crossed the line at 11:13 and the Shamrock at 11:16.
The Columbia fairly tore through the water and gradually widened the gap between her and her rival. In the first five minutes there was no material change in the positions of the yachts, but the change soon came.

At 11:30 the Columbia, evidently favored by a stronger puff of wind, pulled away from the Shamrock, widening the gap between them to a mile and a half. But soon the wind died down to six knots and the racers are lagging greatly. The yachts may not be able to finish in the time limit.

At 11:45 the Shamrock had cut down the lead a little and was hanging on to the Columbia like grim death.

At 12:05 both boats set their spinners and squared away, headed directly for the turning point. The change of sail and direction off the sailing were great benefits to the Shamrock, which caught up rapidly until at 12:10 her bow was abreast of the Columbia's stern.

At 1 o'clock the Columbia was still well in the lead. Nothing short of a phenomenal burst of wind can bring the yachts to the finishing line before the time limit expires. The wind was fluctuating and gasping in three knot breeze and great stretches of soft spots in ocean showed the wind off shore even worse than it was at Highlands.

[There was no later report than this and likely no race.]

MARRIED TODAY.

Miss Hattie Robinson and Mr.
Walter Clark Married.

The marriage of Miss Hattie Robinson to Mr. Walter Clark took place this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jennie Hall, mother of the bride, on North Fifth street, Rev.

W. H. Pinkerton, of the First Chris- tian church officiating.

Only a few friends and relatives were present. Messrs. J. M. Walton and Sid Lemon were the only attendants.

noon for Union City, to remain until Monday. They will make their home with Mrs. Hall upon their return.

CARS BURNED OUT.

Lightning Played Havoc With Some of the Motors.

The lightning this morning burned out five cars at different points on the street car line. Motorman Brahe was slightly shocked.

No. 52, on South Third street, in charge of Motorman Alexander, was one of the worst damaged, and an electric light nearby was injured by the thunderbolt. Fortunately no one was hurt.

A thunderbolt struck a city electric light this morning in front of Mr. J.
O. Jones' grocery, on South Third, and completely demolished it. Persons who saw it say it looked like a ball of fire.

the police court this morning.

ality and using insulting language, were insulting language case dismissed.

The other, as was the charge for false swearing against White, for which no warant has been issued, were continued until Monday.

The case against Willie Cook, for using insulting language towards Susanne Cummings, was dismissed.

costs for riding with a woman of bad reputation.

DELIGHTFUL OUTING.

the yacht Brook Hill yesterday afternoon. It was complimentary to Miss Huskins, Mrs. Henry Burnett, Miss Martha Leach, Miss Mickey Hansbro, Mrs. Bob Phillips, Maurice Nash, Mrs.

Irene Gardner, Given Fowler.

MORE BRITISH TO THE FRONT

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 19.—A courier message from Kimberley says the British lost two killed in the fight ing at Mafeking last Saturday.

LADYSMITH, Oct. 19.—Desultory firing continued all night between the Boers and British outposts at Acton Homes.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 19.—Definite news of the fighting at Mafeking is still wanting. Reports of the Boer reverses there, however, are persistent.

SOUTHAMPTON, Oct. 19.—Five transports leave here tomorrow for South Africa, conveying over five thousand officers and men, including Prince Alexander of Teck, who is a major in the British army.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 19.—A Kimberly dispatch says Col. Here engaged the Boers around Mafeking Saturday with great success. Mafeking was safe Sunday. A second dispatch adds that an armored train which reconnoitered north Saturday engaged five hundred Boers, inflicting heavy losses. The British lost two killed and fourteen wounded.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A Ladysmith special reports a small engagement with Boers at Tintwa Pass. An important British move, which correspondents are forbidden to send pending, is about to be made.

NOAH WARNED.

Franklin Told to Get Out of the County.

Now Franklin, who was recently acquitted of a charge of murder in the Marshall county circuit court, has since remained in the neighborhood, despite the feeling that is against him in Marshall. He was charged with killing Daisy Sullivan, but the charge as is well known, was not sustained.

Last night a written warning was sent to him at his home near B. J. Brown, Marshall county, to leave the county at once or take the consequences.

People from the Britonsburg section report that there is some bitter feeling against him, and unless he leaves as demanded trouble is likely to follow, as he also has many friends.

was kicked in the face by a horse this

His lower jaw was broken, several teeth were knocked out, and he received several painful cuts. He was able to go into the house, however, and inform the family that a horse had kicked him.
He was taken to Dr. Penney's office, where his injuries were dressed.

DISMANTLING THE OLYMPIA.

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—The Olympia, the famous ship, is being rapidly dismantled. Already her boats and life rafts have been removed, tackle of all kinds being taken off, and in two or three weeks she will be stripped.
The work, which is proceeding ahead her according to orders from the navy department, must go on without interference.

Probably the public has had its last chance to see the famous fighter as she came into port from her historic cruise. Her guns are to be taken off and everything stripped for putting her out of commission. She will be docked in about a month and laid up for thorough overhauling for over a year.

MET DEATH TOGETHER.

GREEN LAKE, Wis., Oct. 19.—Ter-by W. A. Meyer, burned to the ground today. Mr. and Mrs. Jenks, parents of Mrs. Meyer, were burned to death.

The loss on the building and contents will reach $60,000, partially covered by insurance.

A pathetic incident in connection with the disaster was the burning to death of Mr. and Mrs. Jenks. Mr. Jenks was lying very ill in bed and not expected to live. Mrs. Jenks made a heroic attempt to save her husband, but before she could rescue him the flames cut off all escape and the old couple burned to death.

THURSDAY, OCT. 19, 1899.

What will the president's message contain is now a question?

Gov. Bradley in his speech at Louisville tonight will without doubt warn Goebel's jacket to a most uncomfortable extent.

The Cuban question and the Philippine war so far as the McKinley message is concerned have been discounted by his latest speeches.

It is useless to approach a sound money man with the Chicago plan form. He helped to smash it and has no use for the lingering nuisance.

The Goebelites had as well give up the race. They are not in it and all their bluster will go for naught. The next governor of the state is to be Mr. Taylor.

The Italian case is not out of the canvass, as some of the Goebelites claim. The sting of the slander is still with the confederates who did not lose the honor of their cause with the cause.

The Goebelites are pleading the baby act. They are crying persecution of the Kenton king by the opposition. The cry is that of the whipped party and will excite no sympathy.

Congressman Bailey, of Texas, at the last minute, broke his Kentucky engagement. The gentleman no doubt wisely concluded he had best not follow the trail made "cold" by Bryan and Goebel.

Governor Bradley will speak tonight in Louisville in behalf of the Republican ticket. There will be no doubt a rousing audience to hear him and what he shall say is certain to be of interest and to the point.

The United States would have remained the New England States if the country had never expanded. The greatness of this grand nation was the result of expansion, and it must continue to spread its blessings.

Mr. Bryan in his trail through Kentucky left behind him more "barn" than he did "good." The purpose of his visit, it is clear, was to do Bryan more of a favor than Goebel, and the fact has created much displeasure even among the Goebelites.

Mr. Bryan would do well to devote his attention to Nebraska. That state next month is to vote on local officers and is going to give the Republicans a majority. Then what will he do a year hence? Kentucky, should it go Democratic, couldn't save him.

If Bryan was not a candidate for office he would never have come into Kentucky to speak for Goebel, not even if he has degenerated from a would-be statesman to a professional politician. He is only hoping to "grease" the way for himself in 1900.

The Goebelites, who abuse the Browns and call them bolters, are busy themselves everywhere trying to abuse the colored voters. They abuse all who leave their party yet are endeavoring to win voters from Republican ranks. The Goebelites are nothing but a body of demagogues.

It is a safe bet that Goebel wishes Bryan had remained in Nebraska or elsewhere and not paid his promised visit to Kentucky. The Goebel position was only strengthened by the Nebraska, who has driven from Goebel some gold bugs who had felt inclined to remain with the old party for old time's sake.

Mr. Bryan is a poor leader of any party, for he advises Democrats to sink right, justice, principles and public welfare to sustain a rotten, treacherous, wrongfully obtained nomination. Mr. Bryan in becoming a perpetual office seeker has degenerated from a man of declared principles to one with no other aim than office and the salary thereof. The once mighty has truly fallen.

President McKinley said at Evansville at the reunion of Union and Confederate soldiers: "This government relies upon the patriotism of the country, North and South, to stand by the purposes of the government and follow in the pathway of its destiny." And no more brave and loyal response is possible than that made by all salutes to the calls of the government since the day war opened with Spain.

A JOLTING ARTICLE

The severest "roast" perhaps yet received by Tom Pettit, the Owensboro wigwag politician, and H. V. McChesney, the Livingston county pedagogical nominee for a place on the Goebel ticket, is found in the Louisville Free Press, of which Walter S. Forester is editor. The roast is a well done one, in no wise raw, yet it is full of blood. The Sun can't endorse all, for it says that in 1895 Pettit said that Blackburn told him to take the Populist nomination for governor and he would give him $3,000 and that he took the job and wasn't paid according to promise. It also makes the query as to what Tom is getting this time, broadly insinuating that he is being paid. The Free Press even goes farther and says Tom is a liar, or words to that effect, and it adds is McChesney for that. The Press continues: "These speakers have two books exactly alike called 'Montgomery's Leading Facts in American History.' They are published by Ginn & Co., of Chicago, who were the backers of the book bill in the last legislature. One of them has stamped on the back, 'Indiana State Contract, Price 65 cents.'"

"Pettit and McChesney exhibit these books and state that Kentucky school children pay $1 for exactly the same book that Indiana school patrons get for 65 cents. This statement is a lie. It is probable that Ginn & Co. have furnished the lie, but Pettit and McChesney could easily inform themselves if they choose to do so. Both books are the Indiana edition, made in small size, cheaply bound and they contain 424 small pages.

"The book really sold in Kentucky under the same name is a larger size, contains 424 pages and is bound handsomely in full cloth. Ginn & Co., have furnished these two Goebelites with a copy without the Indiana Contract stamped on it in order to promote the scheme of Goebel and the Courier-Journal Job Printing Co. to have the selection of school books taken away from the county authorities and placed in a state board composed of Goebel-Haideman creatures. The lie circulated by Tom Pettit and McChesney and backed by a forgery is a part of the big scheme of robbery that is to follow if Goebel should succeed in seizing the state government.

"But leaving out the forgeries and coming down to the main question of a state contract. Here is the result in Indiana as reported by D. M. Gettling, chief clerk of the Indiana state board. The total cost of books including the expenses for handling them which is paid by the state of Indiana, was $224,294.70 for 512,955 enrolled pupils before the state contract went into effect.

"The Democratic Hand-book says that school books under the Chim bill would cost at the lowest estimate $578,027.74 less than they cost now. In other words Kentucky would save by paying about 25 per cent more than the Indiana prices, an amount equal to much more than double the highest amount of the total cost of books in Indiana either before or after the state contract went into effect.

"There are no more school children in Kentucky than there are in Indiana and the United States census statistics show that school books in the United States cost on an average, 40 cents for each school child, per year. As the Indiana reports show that the state pays in expense for handling its books 23 1/2 per cent of the sales, it is plain that a political ring by taking this business out of the hands of legitimate dealers and putting it in the hands of political favorites would make a hot touch at the start. Then the state board could make a pretty good thing on the purchase of say $200,000 of books every year.

"The Democratic Hand-book had when it put the cost of school books at a million and a half to two million dollars a year. The total cost for school books in the United States is given by the New York World Almanac at $7,403,676.

"If the figures given by the Democratic Hand-book were correct and the cost of handling the books by the state were no more than it is in Indiana, the legislature would have to add 7 cents to the tax rate to provide for the cost of handling them about $350,000.

"The truth is that Goebel and the Courier-Journal propose to put the purchase of school books into the hands of a political board, so that the Courier-Journal Job Printing Co., can get into the business, and then instead of letting the merchants handle books

GOVERNOR BRADLEY.

Friends Think He Will Not Leave the State.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Oct. 19.—Governor Bradley's movements after the close of his administration is causing speculation. Some of his friends think the governor has fully decided to remain in Kentucky and look upon the announcement that he is to take the stump for Taylor as an indication that he is not only intended to continue a citizen of the state, but that he, moreover, expects to keep a weather-eye on politics and to engage in that game later on. The governor himself confirms the statement that he has abandoned the idea of becoming a citizen of the state of California, but gives no insight on his future plans further than that he intends to go to Lancaster as soon as his administration ends. He has just had extensive and costly repairs made upon his residence there, which is now one of the handsomest in the aristocratic little county seat of Garrard. But it is the governor's idea to put in only a temporary residence at Lancaster and ultimately to locate in some city. His friends are about evenly divided in opinion as to whether Louisville or Cincinnati is now most favorable in his estimation.

The state department has recently come to the conclusion that the existing treaty between the United States and Switzerland must be terminated, and steps in that direction will soon be taken. This constitutes a direct violation of the treaty between the United States and Switzerland, whereby the United States guaranteed to do business within the limits of the United States as are enjoyed by United States corporations.

CITIZENS, BE ON GUARD

Election Swindles Will Be Attempted by the Gang.

PAST HISTORY AS A PRECEDENT.

Gently Intimate to Those Who Would Ravish the Ballot Box or the Returns That Such Offenders In the Distant Past Are Known to Have Stretched Hemp.

The following letter addressed from the Democratic state central and executive committee to one of the election commissioners in one of the counties in the Eleventh district should be interpreted in connection with Mr. South Trimble's letter to Mr. Thompson, in which the following passage occurs:

"No better man could have been appointed, and one that you should not accept. Our county is all right—safely Democratic—but city elections can't be won with a fair count, and you know that as well as I do. Incompetent, unreliable Republican judges will have to be appointed. The right of the Republicans to indicate who shall represent them as judges, etc., will have to be ignored, and the election commissioners will have to do this, or receive the ill will of the city Democrats. I would not do it, for I could not conscientiously do so, and know that you would not; therefore my advice to you is to refuse to act."

"I had a talk with Judge Pryor on the subject, and he said if you would refuse to act he would appoint any one that we might indicate, which would be Ben Marshall. You know Ben is so partisan that he thinks anything is right that helps the Democrats. Think this matter over and use your best judgment, and if you conclude not to accept, write to me immediately and I will have the change made. I will also see that your interests are represented in the appointment of officers on your side of the river. Let me hear from you at once."

Judge Pryor, after this letter, appointed Mr. Ben Marshall.

Here is the letter referred to from the Democratic committee:

"Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 23, 1899.—My Dear Sir: Permit me to urge upon you the importance of returning to us the poll-books sent to you at the very earliest possible moment. Most all of the counties have already completed the poll and returned the books to us, and we are now waiting on your county and two or three others.

"I am fully aware of the many difficulties you have necessarily encountered in making the poll, but when it is completed the most important gun of the campaign will have been fired.

"We will then know just where we are, what is necessary to be done, and expect, with your assistance, to do it. Faithfully yours,

"ALLIE W. YOUNG."

A statement has been made that what is necessary to be done, according to Goebel's needs, and what is expected, is that returns shall be held back from strong Republican counties in that district till too late to be counted.

A little vigilance and a gentle intimation that some election swindlers may be hanged will prevent that.

Under the statutes and under the ruling of Judge Pryor each candidate for governor is entitled to an inspector at each precinct to supervise the counting of the vote. There are five candidates for governor, and if good men, who are not afraid to do their duty, are appointed as inspectors, and have the backing of honest election leagues and other friends of a free vote and a fair count, the counting will be all right.

Under the Goebel law the sheriff is required to deposit with the county board of election commissioners the returns from the various precincts in his county within two days next after the election, and on the next day the said board is required to meet in the county clerk's office between 10 and 12 o'clock in the morning, open and canvass the returns and immediately thereafter to make out two or more certificates in writing, over their signatures, of the number of votes cast for the candidates for the various offices, one of which certificates shall be retained in the clerk's office and another of which the clerk shall send by next mail, under cover, to the secretary of state.

The state board canvasses such returns as are received on the fourth Monday after the election.

The inspectors at each precinct are entitled to a certificate of the votes polled. The sheriff has to return the votes of all the precincts to the county clerk within two days. The next day the county commissioners are to tabulate the returns from the various precincts—and all they have to do is to tabulate them—and immediately to make out two or more certificates, one of which the clerk is to retain and another of which he is to send by next mail, under cover, to secretary of state.

The postmaster will know whether the clerk does this duty or not. The inspectors at the various precincts will know whether their precincts are reported correctly or not, and if they will gather at their county seats on the third day after the election and see that the returns are properly tabulated and that the clerk sends the certificates by next mail to Frankfort, the rumored Goebel scheme to hold back returns till too late to be counted by the state commissioners can be defeated.

TACOMA, Wash., Oct. 19.—A crisis is approaching in the dispute between China and France over the lease of Kuang Chouwan, on the Kuang Tung coast. LINE OF MARCH

All About the Big Carnival Procession Which Comes Off Next Week.

THE COMMITTEE MET AGAIN

The Voting Contest Closes Tomorrow—Miss Simmott 1 000 Ahead.

OTHER DETAILS OF CARNIVAL

Tomorrow night the voting contest for queen of the carnival ends after a spirited effort.
The vote of yesterday gives Miss Simmott 1000 votes more than the others, the total vote being:
Miss Simmott 2394.
Miss Schwab 1372.
Miss Reed 707.
Miss Sullivan 462.
Miss Owen 194.
Miss Allard 173.
Miss Terrell 165.
Miss Sanders 154.
Others 393.
Total 5988.
The committees on arrangement met last night at the Palmer house and the following line of march for the big parade on the night of the 27th was decided.

The parade will form on Jefferson street between First and Second, at 7 o'clock sharp, and will march out Jefferson to Fifth, thence to Monroe, out Monroe to Seventh, up Seventh to Jefferson, out Jefferson to Ninth, up Ninth to Broadway, down Broadway to First, up First to Court, out Court to Fourth, up Fourth to Adams, out Adams to Seventh, down Seventh to Washington, down Washington to Fifth and up Fifth to the Palmer where the queen will be crowned under auspicious circumstances and the parade disbanded.

The floats from St. Louis were loaded on the train there yesterday, and will arrive here in a day or two.
Three of the finest bands that could be secured have been engaged and will arrive a couple of days before the carnival, arrangements having been made for the erection of band stands at the corner of Second and Broadway and in the vacant plot of ground in front of Dr. Stewart's office adjoining the Palmer on Broadway.

A committee composed of Messrs.
Davis, Lagomarsino and Loving was appointed to call on the mayor and make arrangements relative to the securing of licenses, etc., for the various attractions that will be here, the revenue derived from which the council will be requested to donate to the carnival to help defray the expenses.

The contract has been awarded for the construction of an enormous gate 12 feet high and 45 feet wide, to be erected at the corner of First and Broadway. This gate will be hand-somerly decorated and on each side in large letters, the words "Welcome to our king" inscribed, that it may be observed by every one on each side.

The loving cup to be presented to the owner of the most beautifully decorated private vehicle in the afternoon of the first day will be one of the prominent features of the carnival as he is to be met at the wharf by the mayor, council, mounted police and a committee composed of Messrs. Chas. Reed, T. C. Leech and Jos.
L. Friedman, accompanied by a fine band, and escorted with his retinue interpreter and the admiral of his fleet in carriages to the Palmer.

It was unanimously agreed last night that no float, which displays anything pertaining to politics will be allowed in the parade, as this is not considered the time for the displaying of their political preferences by any one, everything being given over to merry making alone.

Chief Woods is getting the vehicles at the fire department, there being no time in mind, in the time and expense to make one of the most beautiful displays in line.

All the members of company K who desire to take part in the drill which they will give during the festivities are requested to meet with the officers at the city hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, that the arrangements may be perfected and the practice drills commenced.

If the plans discussed last night mature the city will be the possessor of one of the finest bands in the state as the committee is making arrangements for the procuring of an instrument for one of the cities to come here and take charge of a band being organized by musicians of the city.

Paducah is sure of one family at least, from Tennessee to attend the Merchants' carnival. Some time since Hop Little was sent down the river to advertise the carnival. He had handbills, posters, and an abundant supply of small cards given away, containing the delusive words "Complimentary."

When Hop got off the train at Lexington, Tenn., he saw a cotton gin setting at the side of the road, and immediately asked whose it was. He was told that it belonged to a man named Smith, and proceeded directly to the man's house. He found at the house that Mr. Smith had gone to prayer meeting, and there followed him.

Nothing daunted, the Paducahan went inside, and having the man described to see pointed out to him, he sat down behind him and presently asked him if he could have a word with him outside.

The man reluctantly followed, and Hop then began:
"Mr. Smith, I see you have a cotton gin near the depot."

"Yes," was the evasive reply.
"Well I am advertising the Paducah carnival," he continued, "and I want permission to post some bills on the gin. I see some have been there in the past, and I thought there could be no objection to a few now."

"Yes," rejoined the owner, "I have no objection, but when a circus operary show comes along, they generally give me complimentary tickets."

"Why certainly, certainly," acquiesced Hop, understanding the suggestion, for he used to be in the show business himself. "I'll give you plenty of them."

He took out a handful of the advertising tickets, bearing the words:
"All your friends will be there.
Admit bearer."
Complimentary.
Free Fall Carnival, etc.

The man accepted the "comps" and granted the desired permission, and will doubtless be here to see the great carnival Paducah ever gave.

Chief Dispatcher Jorgensen, of the I. C., is braver than most men would be under some circumstances. The other day he boarded the special train that bore Mr. W. J. Bryan, Senator Goebel, and other distinguished Democrats, at the Union depot, to ride to the shops. Other railroad officials were aboard, and they noticed that the chief dispatcher was a John Young Brown button. They were not the only ones who noticed it, either.

Soon the big Nebraskan saw the button, and perceived that it did not contain a picture of Goebel. He walked back with a sinister side glance at the official, and must have said something to the others. One by one they appeared at the door and took a look at the man who would dare board a Bryan-Goebel train with a Brown button on his coat. No one said anything, however, and neither did the dispatcher. When the shops were reached he descended from the train and went his way over to the office obvious of the attention he was attracting. The party were afterwards told who the man was who declined to hide his convictions in order to ride a mile with Bryan and Goebel.

"I understand the Paducah Leader is moving, and hasn't published a paper for two days," remarked one man to another on Legal Row yesterday.
"Yes," was the retort, "they might not publish one for a month and no one would ever know the difference."

Y. S. Carmack is the name of the young man taken to Paducah last week to serve five years for horse stealing. Carmack was caught re-handling, as it were, but he liked to pose ing, claiming once to have been on the staff of the Nashville American.

for favors received at your hands during my imprisonment in Paducah.

Although a prisoner convicted of a most heinous crime, I am a dear lover of good literature. It is useless to state my ignorance or detail my case, suffice it to say I am a victim of misleading circumstances and my friends are here to leave tomorrow for the state penitentiary.

I shall ever remember the Y. M. C.
A's of Paducah, Ky. and their kindness, may success adorn every future effort and heaven bless each individual in my prayer.

A prominent doctor has received an ingenious "dun" which he has exhib-him a bill, with a request to please remit the balance at once.

He did not reply, and did not reply,

More Light on the Double Dealing of Goebel.

HIS NOTE TO CAPTAIN HEADLEY.

Crushing and Most Conclusive Evidence Against the Despicable Deceit and Astonishing Audacity of the Late Kentucky Boss—His Reputation and Political Future Destroyed.

The Evening Post publishes, more with a sense of humiliation than any feeling of triumph, a remarkable letter dated May 3, 1896, addressed to Captain John W. Headley of Louisville, Ky. The publication of this letter is due to the confession and apology made by Mr. Goebel in his speech at Hartford.

After taking his own time and choosing his own place to respond to Mr. Carlisle Mr. Goebel constructed one of the crudest pieces of political fiction that any man credited with ordinary intelligence ever offered to the people of Kentucky.

The Evening Post recently published a letter written by Mr. Goebel, May 23, 1896, to Mr. John G. Carlisle. At the same time we published a statement from Mr. Carlisle concerning that letter. It was clearly shown by Mr.
Goebel's letter that his position and the position of his committee in Kentucky were in serious peril from attacks made upon him by Mr. Harvey Myers. Mr. Goebel had gone to Washington to seek the assistance of Mr.
Carlisle in this struggle with Mr. Harvey Myers. He had pointed out to Mr.
Carlisle the fact that Harvey Myers and his delegation stood for "silver, blackburn and hardin," that Mr. Carlisle's policies, and that the only way to secure the Carlisle delegations to the state convention and Carlisle delegates to the national convention was for Mr. Carlisle to use his influence with the members of the state central committee to secure the continued recognition of Mr. Goebel by the central committee.

At Hartford Mr. Goebel denied that he had asked Mr. Carlisle's assistance and denied further that there was any necessity for seeking the assistance of anybody, and pointed to the credentials given him and his committee in October, 1895, as proof conclusive of his position.

Now, the truth is that these credentials of October constitute the evidence that Goebel gave to Mr. Carlisle of the genuineness of his title, which was being assailed, and he refers to these credentials in his letter of May 23, 1896.

But all quibbling, double dealing and doubt are swept aside by the publication of the letter of Mr. Goebel to Captain Headley dated May 3, 1896—just 29 days previous to the letter to Mr. Carlisle. Let it be remembered that at this time Captain John W.
Headley was an outspoken advocate of free silver, and that this letter was addressed to him in order to secure his personal influence as a friend and an advocate of free silver with certain members of the central committee.

In this letter Mr. Goebel sets forth the fact that there was at that time a combination made between Mr. Hodges and Mr. Myers to cancel the credentials given him in October, 1895, and to re-establish the Myers committee, known as the old committee, in place of the new or Goebel committee. With this statement of facts he appeals to Captain Headley for his assistance, assuring him that the matter vitally concerns his political future. It is a cry of distress; it is an appeal for help in desperate need. It is far more frank and outspoken than the letter to Mr. Carlisle. It reveals the condition of Mr. Goebel's mind. It sets forth the malevolence of Mr. Goebel's nature against any man who dares oppose him. The Hodges whom in this letter he denounces as a liar is the same Judge Hodges who came to the Louisville convention and here organized a contest against the seating of the Campbell county delegates.

This letter, following 36 hours after the publication of Mr. Goebel's defense, is without question the most crushing and the most conclusive political document ever published. It destroys at once and the same time the personal reputation and the political future of the man who penned it. It shows that Mr. Goebel deliberately, addressing an audience of Kentuckians, dared with astounding audacity to falsify the position of his own party with regard to ten with his own hand, in the desperate hope that no letters remained to confute him.

It is not possible to make any comment to increase the force of this historical statement. We submit the matter to the people of Kentucky; we submit it to the associates of Mr. Goebel on the state ticket, whom he thoroughly dishonors. We submit it to Senator Blackburn, to Judge Pryor, to Robert J. Breckinridge, and ask if they are still willing to stand before the people of Kentucky as the personal and political indolence of Mr. William Goebel.—Louisville Evening Post.

AQUATIC MONSTER.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—Residents of the North shore were much excited over the appearance in the lake of what they believe is an aquatic monster. It showed above water in three black humps, each of which looked larger than a rowboat, and it moved rapidly. Those who claim to have seen it say that it had a head like a snake's and an immense tail.
The entire body was a gray or black color, which, in a glinting light, seemed green.

LOSS OF LIFE.

ROME, Oct. 19.—Serious storms, accompanied by floods, prevail in the southern districts of Italy, working widespread damage. At San Giorgio a bridge and twenty houses have been swept away, and it is believed there has been considerable loss of life there. At Monte Mesola a church, was struck by lightning during mass, three persons being killed and forty others more or less seriously injured.

GOOD TALKS.

Knights of Honor hall was well crowded last evening. It was a joint meeting of the brethren and the occasion was a visit from Grand Reporter H. S. and Deputy Grand D. C. Moody. The two gentlemen addressed the gathering in behalf of the good of the order, making entertaining and pleasing speeches. The K. of H. is a fine order, comprising in its membership some of the best men of the state and nation. For years it has been a blessing to one of the largest memberships in the world.

DEWEY HAS HUMOR.

That he is not lacking in the sense of humor, a story of that same spotless deck bears witness. One day his keen eye detected a tobacco quid which a sailor had carelessly thrown under one of the guns. All hands were instantly ordered on deck and the command given to rig the heavy tackle. This being used only for the raising of the most ponderous articles, such as heavy guns, its adjustment involved hours of the hardest kind of labor. When all was ready at last, to the amazement of the men, the huge fall was ordered to be made fast to the little tobacco quid, and the latter was slowly lifted and swung over the side. Never since then have quids been thrown under the flag ship's guns. — Boston Transcript.

Campbellsville was selected as the place of next year's meeting.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING.

The railroad advertising agents were in Chicago a few days ago. After consultation they deliberately declared, as a result of their experience, that the newspapers were the best means of reaching the masses. In this declaration they simply indented the views held by the richest and most successful men of this generation.

In commenting upon this subject, the Fourth Estate says: "The reason why the newspapers are the best mediums for reaching the people and securing business is that they come into closer touch with the public than any other kind of publication."

When a man takes up his favorite paper to find out what is going on in the great, busy world about him he can avoid seeing the advertisements contained in it. Whether he needs any of the articles advertised or not he is impressed by the announcements and remembers them. When sickness comes into his family he buys the aspirin, the pills or the medicine that he has seen advertised in his newspaper.

It is the persistency, if we may so call it, of the newspaper that gives it value. Every day it is new and must be read, and every day the advertiser is making a direct appeal to the reader for his patronage. It is the constant dropping of water that wears away the hardest stone. It is almost complete. The A. C. Co.

WANTED HIS MONEY.

Bondsman Applies—Freeman's Father Expected.

Freeman was fined $100 and sent to jail for 30 days Monday morning for carrying concealed two pistols.

He resides in Fayette, Christian county, and his father will be here today or tomorrow to try to get him out of his trouble. He will ask a new trial, it is understood, with a view to having the sentence reduced.

Judge Hudson is to appoint a new commissioner in Marshall county also. The commissioner there retired last week, before court adjourned.

THE BOER WORD "TRUCK."

The Boer word "truck" means literally "track." The Boers use it as a noun to mean a journey, and as a verb to mean "traveling" or "marching," or still more specifically, "migrating." They "truck" meander from Cape Town or Delagoa Bay into the interior. When opposed in the southern provinces they "truck" or migrate toward the north, and their three migrations in search of a land where they might be free are known to them as "the three trucks," or, as we should say, the three migrations.

GRAVES COUNTY VOTE.

Mayfield Monitor, 18th: "A correspondent of the Capital Record, writing to that paper from Canton, Ky., says of the political situation in Graves county: 'I recently talked with a citizen of Graves county. He said there was only one Brown man in Graves, and to my great discomfort I learned that it was my esteemed brother-in-law, J. Forrest McAtee, of Mayfield. If the writer of the above will go to the trouble of coming to Mayfield and Graves county he will find that Mr. McAtee is not the only Brown man here by any means. There are hundreds of them, as will be shown by the election returns of the 7th of November. The colored men seem to be extinguishing the Brown strength of the state by that of Palmer and Buckner, the gold standard candidates for president and vice president in 1896. They received in Graves county only fifty-three votes, while any well-informed man knows that there are more democrats in Mayfield for Brown than that. The colored men are either trying to fool the people or are woefully deceived as to the strength of the revolt against their ticket. A poll of one voting precinct in this county shows 200 Democrats for Brown, and yet there are men who claim he has no strength here or elsewhere in the state. The returns of the November election will show them that as political prophets they are rank failures.'"

PEOPLE OF TITLE.

The queen of Belgium has quite recovered from her recent illness and intends to spend the summer at Spa, where she expects to be visited by her second daughter, Crown Princess Stephanie of Austria.

It is now stated that the German emperor will certainly go to Cowes in August in his yacht. He will visit the queen and witness the royal yacht regatta. It is not, however, probable that he will visit London unless incognito.

The king of Denmark has left the Amalienborg palace, in Copenhagen, for the chateau of Bernstorff, in order to be near the crown prince and crown princess, who are now settled for the summer at the neighboring castle of Charlottenlund. Prince and Princess Waldemar and Prince Hans of Glücksburg are staying with King Christian, who is in excellent health.

The prince and princess of Wales, accompanied by the duke and duchess of York, and attended by Capt. Holford, drove to the zoo one recent Sunday afternoon, and, after a leisurely stroll through the pretty grounds, took tea in the open air and then drove back to Marlborough house, scarcely any one en route appearing, curiously enough, to recognize the royal party.

The 100th anniversary of the death of King Alfred the Great will be celebrated in 1901, and rightly the committee has decided that the city of Winchester should occupy a prominent position in the commemoration, and that a national memorial should be erected there, which was the royal burial place and residence of the king.

Illinois Third in Line.

It might be naturally inferred that New York has more daily papers than any other state, but it does not, Pennsylvania having 136 dailies to 133 for New York. Illinois comes next, with 120; Ohio fourth, with 142; Indiana fifth, with 150, and California sixth, with 112, and no other state has as high as 100. The last in the string are Nevada, with 10, and Wyoming, with four each. It may be noted, as a sort of a south, that Massachusetts, the educational center of the universe, with eighty-four, is first among those out of the hundred class.

BACK IN JAIL.

Tom Holihan and Pete Griffin Arrested at Golconda.

Pete Griffin and Tom Holihan, the two prisoners who escaped from the county jail last week, were brought in late last evening on the City of Golconda, from Golconda, where they were captured by Ernest Stallions yesterday.

The captor had received one of the postal card descriptions sent out by Jailer Miller. They were arrested near Elizabethtown, Ill., and made no resistance.

The fugitives are now back in jail, and a reward of $75 was paid to the man who captured them.

Griffin and Holihan claim their escape was a "joke," but Jailer Miller is not disposed to consider it such, especially when it cost him $75.

FRANCE A REPUBLIC.

Note in Breckinridge News: "While we have commended the late ceremonial trial in France and while that nation has lost much of her prestige we must not forget that in that republic every young man, every young woman, prince or peasant, as in this country, has a chance to rise and be a great power. France whose high social order is interesting, was the son of a poor cabinet maker, and he himself was a tanner, and Eugenie Loubet is the son of a plain peasant. Both by their own merits became presidents of the republic, just as Lincoln and Johnson, of humble parents, became the first men of our republic. Madame Loubet was the daughter of a laborer who left a fortune. The president and his wife have cultivated a taste for the classics and he took a course of daily private study. Another feature of the French republic we commend is the American students that are now admitted to the Universities of France on nearly equal conditions with her own people. The University of Paris had 25,000 students making it by far the largest in the world. 1500 were from the United States, mostly medical students. There is still another law, as we term it, that a Frenchman can not by will deprive his child of an inheritance, and if he dies without a will the law divides his estate equally among his children and widow. But what we American women most rejoice in is that our French sisters are slowly obtaining a few rights including the right of suffrage in the municipal elections. Florence Nightingale could have been a model of what women can do and that fact makes them strive to produce another such noble character. America is expanding, hence we must know more of the people of Europe and of other lands. Our commerce, our interests, and our diplomatic relations are becoming world-wide.

GOBEL TACTICS.

Mayfield Monitor, 18th: Hon. Ed Thomas, of Fulton, had an appointment to speak at the court house Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Mr. Thomas is a Republican. The hour for speaking had been granted him by Mr. Gus Thomas, a brother of the speaker, chairman of the Democratic committee, and Hon. J. D. Watson, chairman of the Democratic campaign committee. Mr. Thomas went to the court house at the time appointed, but some of the followers of Mr. Gobel had possession of the speaker's stand and refused to vacate, but proceeded to intone a Gobel orator—Mr. J. N. Kehoe—who was announced to speak at 2:30. Mr. Kehoe occupied the time allotted to Mr. Thomas, and after the former closed Mr. Thomas arose to speak, but the Gobel hordes undertook to howl him down, but failing in this, they left the house and the speaker was permitted to proceed. Such proceedings as this in the land of the free and the home of the brave are calculated to disgust the fair-minded of all parties, and will certainly do so to the people who sense the wrong is good. (Gus Thomas should feel proud of the company he is in.)

THE AUTOMOBILE.

The automobile threatens to become a "mob." New York already speaks of a mobing trip.—Minneapolis Journal.

The auto is likewise going to hit the horse doctors a hard blow when it gets here and begins to turn the impudent and tail-switching regime out to grass.—Los Angeles Times.

The automobile threatens to intercept an element of the ridiculous into our notions of the heroic. The new machine is being urged as useful in war. Think of Gen. Otis sitting, battle-scarred, on a horse-drawn carriage, posing for a statue!—San Francisco Call.

The automobile, with its big pneumatic tires, is a road builder and not a road destroyer, like the heavy, narrow, steel-tired vehicle. The more automobiles we have the better it will be for our roads. From every point of view they should be encouraged.—New York Herald.

Akron, with her coming automobile patrol wagon, will feel as if she were right up at the head of the progress parade. The only drawback may be a tremendous increase of petty offenders, for all Akron will certainly want to ride in the horseless Marie wagon.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
